All Were Saved.

"For years I suffered such untold misery from Bronchitis," writes J. H. Johnston of Broughton, Ga., "that often I was unable to work. Then, when everything else failed, I was wholly cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. My wife suffered intensely from Asthma, till it cured her, and all our experience goes to show it is the best Croup medicine in the world." A trial will convince you it's unrivaled for Throat and Lung diseases. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at B. H. Gorrell, Druggist, Lexington, Va.

Gazette Irregularly Delivered.

Complaints have come to us that THE GAZETTE fails to reach some of our subscribers in due time. At Buffalo Mills, especially, we are informed that the bundle of papers has several times missed altogether and a short time ago reached there the week following publication. This office on a county line served directly from Lexington and should be reached Thursday afternoon, but repeatedly THE GAZETTE does not get there until Friday afternoon.

THE GAZETTE is put in the Lexington postoffice every Wednesday evening in time to be sent out on the first mails Thursday, and most of the county offices can be reached that day.

Our attention was only last week called to this matter, and we greatly regret the disappointment to our patrons. We will appreciate the kindness if our subscribers or county postmasters will report to us any irregularities as soon as they occur, and steps will be taken to correct the same.

Look Pleasant, Please.

Photographer C. C. Harlan of Eaton, O., can do so now, though for years he couldn't, because he suffered a cold agony from the worst form of indigestion. All physicians and medicines failed to help him till he tried E. C. Bitters, which we need such wonders for him that he declares they are a godsend to sufferers from dyspepsia and stomach troubles. Unrivalled for diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, they build up and give new life to the whole system. Try them. Only 50c. Guaranteed by B. H. Gorrell, druggist, Lexington, Va.

"Covey" Taken to West Virginia.

The forger passing under the name of D. T. Covey, and for two weeks confined in the Lexington jail, was Friday taken to Hinton, W. Va., where he will be tried for forgery and theft, as the offense was committed in that State. Mr. J. H. Jordan, cashier of the Bank of Summers at Hinton, at whose bank the notes stolen from the real Covey were discounted by the prisoner, arrived in Lexington Friday. Governor Montague, in honoring a requisition of the governor of West Virginia, issued a requisition upon Sheriff Sterrett to deliver the prisoner to Mr. Jordan. As the trial was pending and set for Nov. 5th, it was necessary to secure the consent of the prisoner's counsel, Mr. J. V. Grinstead, before the requisition could be honored. The necessary consent being obtained, the prisoner was turned over to Mr. Jordan, who left Friday afternoon for Hinton.

Income

doesn't make prosperity if the outgo is bigger. Did you ever figure out what sickness costs you per year; doctors' bills, medicine bills, etc., etc., to say nothing of the suffering. Rheumatism strikes like a knife in the back if left alone; with Perry Davis' Painkiller, the terror of this disease are banished. Painkiller relieves muscular cramps, lumbago, neuralgia and sciatica. 25 and 50 cents.

Football.

The Virginia Military Institute team played the University of North Carolina eleven at Roanoke Saturday afternoon and were defeated by the score of 17 to 10 in 25 minute halves. At the close of first half the score stood 10 to 6 in favor of V. M. I. The most interesting game of the season will take place next Tuesday, Nov. 11th, between Washington, Lee and Virginia Military Institute. From their record this year the teams are about evenly matched, and a fine exhibition of football is expected. In former games V. M. I. has defeated W. & L. U., but this year the result is an uncertain quantity.

Save the Children.

Statistics will prove that a large percentage of deaths among children may be traced to complications arising from the early souring of milk by bacteria. Cholera infantum is the most fatal disease of infancy, and common, especially with bottle fed infants. Perry Davis' Painkiller in the emergency is best remedy and saves many a child's life while the doctor is coming. 25 and 50c.

Last night a force of hands swept the business streets, and today the accumulations of several weeks were hauled away, leaving the streets in a better condition than they have been for some weeks.

Giles Gunn Dies at Vinton.

Information was received here Sunday that Giles Gunn, one of the oldest and most prominent citizens of Vinton (a suburb of Roanoke city), died Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, aged 76 years. Mr. Gunn was a native of the Connecticut and his mature manhood was spent in Rockbridge county. For nearly fifty years he taught school in this county, and fifteen years ago he moved to Vinton in Roanoke county. His wife, who survives him, was Miss Virginia W. Morrison, a sister of the late Capt. James L. Morrison. Mr. Gunn since he moved to his adopted home had served as mayor of Vinton several terms, and at the time of his death was a justice of the peace. He was a ruling elder in the Vinton Presbyterian church. Besides his wife, he leaves eight children—Mrs. J. L. Davis of Philadelphia, Professor William Gunn of Bessemer, Ala., Mrs. R. D. Campbell of Lexington, Va., and Mrs. Frank Robinson of Texas, Ralph Gunn of Roanoke, and John, E. B., and Edna Gunn of Vinton. The Roanoke Times in a notice of Mr. Gunn's death says: "Mr. Gunn was a man loved, honored and respected and many friends in this county and city, as well as at his old home in Rockbridge will mourn his death. He was a friend, tried and true, and in his life there is much sorrow over the death of one who has been for years a counselor and friend."

Died.

Mr. Lacy Huffman, aged 23 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Huffman of near Falling Spring church, died Saturday at Covington. The remains were brought home for burial, and the funeral services took place Sunday morning at 11 o'clock from Falling Spring church, conducted by Rev. Dr. A. G. Buckner. His wife, who was a Miss Rowsey of near Glasgow, survives, also his parents and one brother and two sisters. Mr. Huffman since last spring had made his home at Covington. He contracted typhoid fever and came to Rockbridge, where he was ill for three weeks. Recovering, he returned to Covington two weeks ago. He suffered a relapse, from eating chestnuts it is thought, which proved fatal.

Water Supply Increasing.

Professor D. C. Humphreys yesterday measured the water supply of Lexington and gratifying results were obtained.

The daily supply amounts to 160,000 gallons, which is about 47 gallons daily for each person in Lexington. As many individuals do not use that much water a day, the surplus is allowed to gather in the reservoir.

Since the several leaks have been stopped in the term-cotta pipes, considerable water has accumulated in the reservoir, and now measures eight or ten feet.

Chrysanthemum Festival.

Following their yearly custom the ladies of New Providence church near Brownsburg will have their chrysanthemum festival on November 6th and 7th. There will be a number of handsome premiums on chrysanthemums, also on other miscellaneous articles. Persons who have witnessed these annual chrysanthemum exhibits at New Providence are enthusiastic in praise of the grand flowers on exhibition. This year is expected to be no exception to the rule.

When the mother discovered her awful mistake she was driven almost to distraction.

Night Services at the Churches.

The churches of Lexington have changed their time of evening services for the winter. At the Baptist, Methodist, and Presbyterian churches evening services will begin at 7:30 o'clock, and at 5 o'clock at the Episcopal church.

Revival services are still in progress at the Methodist church, with considerable interest shown.

Public Speaking Monday.

The political campaign, which was unusually quiet in Rockbridge, closed with public speaking Monday. As both parties were to be represented that day a joint discussion was arranged for which took place in the court house. Attorney-General W. A. Anderson led off in a speech of 30 minutes, followed by Mr. R. A. Fulwiler of Staunton in 30 minutes, Senator W. P. Barksdale of Halifax county in 45 minutes, Mr. Jacob Yost of Staunton in one hour, and Mr. Barksdale closed in 15 minutes.

The speeches were all well received and at times considerable enthusiasm was aroused by the respective parties. Attorney-General Anderson was dignified and masterful in the presentation of his address. Senator Barksdale and Messrs. Fulwiler and Yost adopted a style of delivery calculated to catch the ear of a promiscuous crowd and at times they were vigorously applauded. The Democratic speakers were introduced by Mr. Greenlee D. Letcher, chairman of the County Democratic executive committee, and the Republican speakers by Postmaster McClung Patton, chairman of the County Republican committee. Mr. Letcher in presenting the first speaker said he hoped the joint discussion of today augured a return to the political campaign of the past, when representatives of the two parties could meet and discuss the issues in a dignified manner.

Mr. Anderson prefaced his address with the statement that it gave him great pleasure to return to his home county after an absence of nearly a year, and speak to his friends and neighbors. He declared that we are on the eve of a great national election and that in Virginia two parties, yes three, claimed our attention—the Democratic, the Lily White Republican and the Black Republican parties. He then took up some of the national issues and discussed them in relation to their bearing on State politics. Prosperity, said he, is enjoyed by the United States in a remarkable degree, and so is it in England and Germany, yet the Republican party is not responsible for that state of affairs in foreign countries although that party claims the honor at home. The Republican party is not responsible for the creation of wealth, but it has something to do with the distribution of this prosperity. This party has nurtured trusts and combinations until we see the startling situation that fifteen or twenty men have in their power to fix the prices of even the necessities of life. The remedy, he asserted, lies in the reduction of import duties on such articles. Referring to the Constitutional Convention Mr. Anderson said that he always voted for submission of the new Constitution because it was the wish of his constituents that the instrument should be sent back to the people. There were, however, in the convention, 30 or 40 members who were instructed by their people, if deemed best, to vote for proclamation. The new Constitution had restricted the suffrage to the white man and eliminated the negro vote. The right to vote had never been of advantage to the black man, and had been used by the leaders of the Republican party only to advance their own personal interests.

Mr. Fulwiler followed Mr. Anderson and delivered a characteristic speech. His effort was well received by his Republican friends. The line he followed was an arrangement of the Democratic party for all the ills in government affairs in general, and for the proclamation of the new Constitution in particular. Mr. Barksdale was then introduced and for forty-five minutes he entertained the crowd with a speech luminous, forceful, pathetic, and humorous by turns. With characteristic vigor of expression he paid his charges that the Republican party and charged that they were laying claims to everything when they said that the present prosperity was due to their wise laws and good government. Mr. Yost next appeared and for an hour upheld the Republican cause. It was observable, however, that his old time vigor was lacking, although at times he became vehement in charging Democracy with unfulfilled pledges and incompetency in governing. He also paid his respects to the new Constitution and the Constitutional Convention and charged breach of faith in proclaiming the instrument.

Mr. Barksdale concluded with an address of fifteen minutes. During the course of his speech his remarks were addressed directly to Mr. Yost, which elicited round after round of applause.

Mr. J. A. Dixon pulled from his cucumber patch, of the Long Green variety, a cucumber measuring 12 inches in length and weighing 4 pounds.

Mr. A. M. Lam reports a tomato raised on his place weighing 3 1/2 pounds.

Women And Jewels.

Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even the greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined by the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her for herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds, and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It will remedy all consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get this reliable remedy at B. H. Gorrell's Drug Store, Lexington, Va. Gazette Correspondence.

Nov. 4.—Mrs. Thomas I. Mills, after an illness of some nine weeks, quietly passed away this morning about five o'clock. Her trouble began in a mild attack of typhoid fever. This subsided, but health seemed not to be regained. No direct cause could be assigned for her relapse, but her strength gradually sank away. She will be buried tomorrow (Wednesday), at 11 a. m.

Miss Annie S. Thompson of Palmyra, Fluvanna county, Va., is visiting the family of her uncle, Mr. A. H. Thompson of this place. Miss Annie is not a stranger among our people. The most of our enterprises that have been crippled because of the coal strike, have started up again, and the familiar sound of the shrieking whistles is heard as of yore.

The joint discussion of Mr. Flood, et al, did not create much excitement. Nor does the election of today start off very briskly. Politics are rather too one sided now to cause much of a stir. Let us hope purity of principle and good government may be the outcome of the day's balloting.

Mr. L. L. Edwards of Richmond, was a guest at the Colonnade last night, he having brought his daughter, Corinna, here to enter her at the Southern Seminary.

The news of the death of Squire Giles Gunn of Vinton, Va., brings sadness to some of our citizens who knew him to be a noble, true man.

Mr. Ralph Pearsall of Westfield, N. J., who has been visiting his relatives here, the family of Mr. E. L. Embree, will return to his home today.
